- Youth active in volunteering, civic participation and in giving their voice in their local community
- Youth wanting to develop their soft skills and intercultural knowledge

ABOUT THE PROJECT

“THE FIGHT OF A GENERATION II - Voicing the Change” is an European youth exchange aimed at gathering young people that want to make a change in their countries and their communities. At joining efforts and ideas from different realities and addressing global environmental issues together. At finding support for the youth that feel alone in their fights for a better world.

During 10 days, young people from different worlds and realities will gather in Chaves, in the isolated hill region of the north of Portugal to participate in sessions and activities in our community, connecting with each other and with our local population.

They will be sharing ideas, creating plans and developing their capacity to make things happen in their town. They will use and learn intervention tools to be changemakers in their communities and prepare ideas for environmental policies to be implemented in our town.

They will prepare the ground for the valorization of the nature and ecology of their regions and find support in each other for all their future actions and interventions.
